"LET GEORGE DO IT"

Capt. Fel says that the "Let George Do It" idea is a common one with us, insofar as present there is a movement on foot to organize a cooperative company in a department for the sale of the farmers' crops. It appears that the idea is not on the sufficient, but as a supplement to the present system of marketing it may be a good proposition, and, and as this is a nation of the people for the people and by the people, about as soon as this idea becomes universal, the people, the automobile makers would want their product made by George, and George would pay all the money he could for payroll. Then the clothes makers would want George to buy their clothes expense and would demand the sale of their product, and George, the clothing stores on the payroll, shoe makers would want George to buy shoes, hat makers, supplement manufacturers, and so on ad infinitum. Then, these farmers, in competition with the payroll, then the movie would want George to buy their product employed would be ordered to attend, this would be a great advertising scheme, the other fellows in order to fill their jobs, the other fellows would support family and threaten to strike if they didn't get it. I'd advise George to get a little hot hard on "George" but then by

Veal hearts are used savory and when well seasoned and tender. Boil them in a large slices of bacon in a crisp, crumb from the frying pan and try a small sliced onion in the hot fat. Trim and wash four veal hearts slice them, pill the pieces in flour and fry them in hot fat. Place the hearts in a heated casserole, add to the fat in the pan a couple of spoiler or cloves, a minced pimenta, a teaspoonful of salt and half a bay leaf. Pour the mixture over the hearts and cook two hours. Five minutes before serving add the slices of bacon.

Braised Calf's Liver—Make small slits with a knife in the liver and insert mined salts and slices of bacon using one onion and two ounces of bacon to two pounds of liver. Brown fat and flour, three tablespoonfuls each, add liver and roll until well seared in the fat and flour. Place in a hot casserole, add a sliced onion, a tot of bay leaf, salt, one-half cupful of strained tomato, a cupful of hot water or stock and bake two and one-half hours.

Kidney en Casserole.—Select sheep kidneys, skin, dip into a mixture of minced parsley, onion and thyme. Add a tablespoonful of flour, cayenne and salt to taste. Add two table-spoonfuls of butter and cook in a casserole for thirty minutes. Remove, pour over a cupful of cream sauce mixed with a tablespoonful each of flour and butter cover with buttered crumbs and bake one hour. When ready to serve put several tablespoonfuls of cooked rice in the casserole around the kidneys with rolls of crisp bacon. Serve with toast.

Vegetables en Casserole.—Cut turnips, squash, or cauliflower into small pieces and cook in salted water until tender. Drain, place in a casserole with two minced onion peppers, a teaspoonful of butter and one-half cupful of cream sauce with milk. Bake in a moderate oven fifteen minutes. Then pour over a cream sauce, add a layer of buttered crumbs and cook uncovered until the crumbs are brown.

LEGISLATURE IN SESSION THIS WEEK

State Budget is Matter for Careful Consideration

By GEO. E. TUENER.

Sacramento—The assemblage of the legislature after recess finds the administrative wave continued at work and its progress and enacting the new tidal bill. It is thought certain that bills which Senator King introduced before adjournment, when the budget was defeated in the Assembly failed of the Senate, will be recommended by the State Board of Equalization, which has always acted, under fire, every case, than those in the defeated measure, consequently if the new bill be enacted the corporations affected will have to pay more money to the exchequer of many thousands than they would have paid had the bill been passed at the late but defeated session.

The Adams-Cousins bill which failed at the recess is not before the recess in both the Senate and the Assembly and that the Governor has notes that was his own extra veto in the lower house. Nevertheless, as was stated in this correspondence last week, the Administration is taking no chances, and orders have been sent out to every county tax collector in this state, to be prepared to collect the 25 mill tax of $12.50 per hundred if the King bill is quite defeated.

I understand that there will be few if any, further business on the bill by the Committee, as it is probable that every one has heard of the subject who is interested and will therefore no further discussion is needed. The opponents of the bill have carried out after the date in March when the law must be in force, but if this is true that when the Administration will introduce a bill to take the place of the bill.

There the Administration has the votes, and that the corporations have in leather the King bill. The Adams-Cousins bill is dead, and unless the Administration must have a bill in the Senate and Assembly to its measure, but is prepared to accept any bill that will be a majority vote or twenty-one in the Senate and forty in the Assembly, and that the Administration can call the roll of the Senate and Assembly and that the tax-bill provides in the Senate, and that the Senate under where the corporations pay the state six mill tax, and the state pay the counties the balance of the tax.

Taxing the Parlors is Easier Than Taxing Corporations.

Taxing the parlors is a far easier job than taxing the corporations, and regardless of the fact that it is the controversy that will certainly take place in the Senate and Assembly, the Administration will be brought forward a majority vote or twenty-one in the Senate and forty in the Assembly, and that the Administration can call the roll of the Senate and Assembly and that the tax-bill provides in the Senate, and that the Senate under where the corporations pay the state six mill tax, and the state pay the counties the balance of the tax.

As the Editor Sees and Hears It

CHEER UP AND KEEP BUSY

Despite the fact that freight rates are high, as also is foreign exchange, that the market is more or less disorganized, etc., there are many indications of a silver lining to the dark clouds.

We have talked with several of old time farmers and they all agree that the outlook is encouraging. Some of them say they point out that owing to prohibition there is certain to be a continued and increase demand for fruit juices which will without doubt serve to hold the market at a fair price, cheaper substitutes notwithstanding. It has long time to pickle and many things which improve and brighten the future, nearly all agree that the incoming national administration will have a steadying effect.

The fact that there is a strong movement on foot for a reduction is full rates is also encouraging, as is the fact that the emergency tariff measure is certain to become permanent.

The fact that Japanese economic conditions are improving and that silk shares are actually boomed and foreign representatives are also getting into the market more or less effectively, all indicate that our overplus stocks will be rapidly taken up and the new general crops will have a cheaper and more stable market, the prospect of a fair price if not a good one.

The prevailing sentiment appears to be that changes generally should plod along, but, since no good has in all cases should endeavor to keep their overhead expenses as low as possible. They should also endeavor to get together or at least keep posted on market conditions generally and keep a close watch on their expenses and watching them and producing nothing better than to find they in a possibilistic mood as that seems to be the can buy their products at a low price. Without being a pessimist we feel that he always lieds up when he finds a condition confronting him that is a real menace to his business.

The fact that several of the growers have combined and rented a stall in the Los Angeles wholesale markets and put a man in charge to sell for them is also reassuring, as it is the first move in this section toward forming a sales department.

DOWN, NOT UP

The proposition to equalize the taxes on the basis of the population and not upon the assessed valuation of the corporations, is fine, but under present conditions, the proposition should be down, not up as proposed in the King bill.

LET'S PLAY THE GAME

In his talk Monday evening Mark Grimes brought out the fact that when we had suspected right about Valley, that the San Fernando Valley is composed of two sections, the "up" section and the "down" section, and we thought it for the city proper and his second in, if I recall the expression or any other benefit to the rural section can I go back to my economics and get recalcitrant" in other words as Mr. Grimes said, "play fair and simply, is the basis of their thoughts.

All right then, let us play the game, and if the "down" section of the valley and the other rural sections of the city have not the majority, they still it might be the best of the deciding vesdge, and if we have and use it properly, in such a way as we could make it worth their while to be friendly to our interests and to have their political lives, at least, it is worth the try.

We have often expressed the doubt that a community, as such, or even can be successfully ruled by a school government, as in many cases their interests are diametrically opposed but one thing is certain, there is too much at stake to permit and we do allow it to be used as a football and kicked hither and yonder. It is certtid that we stop the practice of putting the school matters in politics and the middle ground, and we should never forget the brand of one party or local matters are always subject to "for the valley."

If our same question and our road question and our taxation question is to be handled as it should and as it will be in the near most of the time bulletin board, we must all get together and pull together for the good of all.

For better for each community to get busy and do the things needed and then let as opposed a few of our capable men and women, in a social relation, get pledges from the candidates for major and for all offices and see just what is necessary to do to place our interests in safety.

State Senators Carr and Yonkin and Assemblymen White and Fydenson, should be ready, under the supervision of the Supervisor of Agriculture, and the Chamber of Los Angeles County, to work, and, if, over the valley by President Hallwar and the Chamber of the Van Nuys Chamber of Commerce Friday with the view of locating the proposed junior agricultural college in the San Fernando valley. The diversity of interests, and the local jealousies, are here were a great deal of work, as the varied soil and the water supply, etc.

GIVE CHICKENS EARLY FEED

Excellent Plan to Have Some Grain Scattered in Litter Ready for Their Breakfast.

If there is a reasonable amount of litter on the floor and there is a stream proof, it is a practical plan to feed an early feed of grain, scattered in the litter scratch. This will be an incentive to the birds to get up and as soon as it is daylight. That's one thing that is important in getting the eggs. As a rule, hens like eggs in the morning and prefer eggs in this regard on cold days, but they will be down at the first light of day. Just they will find something to eat. Food is in their stomachs is there in the litter ready for them. This is an excellent and economical method than pulling around to do the feeding before daylight. If the hens feed on the perches until broad daylight one of two things is wrong: Either the house is too dark or the hens are overfed. Either condition is undesirable and rectified and it will be dollars in your pocket to do so.

MEALS FOR THE CHILDREN.

There is much on the protection of children which should never be put off to a later time. Nothing is more important than the health of children and of the protection of them from the "bugbear" of such "evil" is followed in most families.

The mother who is a Lover Mac-Donald's book will in her power, reading self-conservation with other mothers learn many attractive ways of serving the common foods that are so cooked in her children's diet.

Any stale fruit or dried cereal fruit, needed until fine and stirred through, and such as oatmeal, cream of wheat rice or corn meal well cooked will make a pleasant change from the monotonny serving of cereal.

A different arrangement of the food, a new dish, a garnish of some well cooked food will often be an appetizer for a finicky appetite. Our children will see that the young animal should never stop growing and they see to it that they crave for it means an excess in profits. How much more better keep it up in a healthy state than wait until it has got so that there may be no work given to the body structure to repair in later life?

Some day our states will look after the feeding of our children who are to be the world's work, with as much efficiency of funds and energy as they do now on the stock, valuable as that is.

Food and better grows monotonous but when sprinkled with a bit of chopped maple sugar or a bit of brown jelly, it is seldom refused.

Baked apples, baked beans, baked bananas, as well as baked potatoes, are good cereals.

Stewed prunes and apples—apples by seasoned with milk or baked with cream and bread crumbs until just done.

Plain bread and butter cut in fancy shapes with cookie-cutters and garnished with various warps.

Baked custards, flavored with cursed, tapioca with apple, rice with dates.
