COMMENCEMENT

OWENSMOUTH SCHOOLS CLOSE YEAR'S WORK

Four High Schools Students to Receive Diplomas This Evening—Interesting Program at Grammar School Thursday

The third annual Commencement exercises of the Owensmouth Hi School have been carried out most successfully and the attendance at the various events has been very gratifying.

The annual recital by the piano and violin pupils of Miss Lucy Smith and Miss Dorothy Hess on Friday evening last was a convincing demonstration of the excellent work being done by these teachers.

The annual school play on Tuesday evening was without doubt the best amateur performance ever given in Owensmouth. The new stage scenery added to the effectiveness of the settings and the play, "Tommy's Wife," is admirably adapted to amateur needs.

Carroll Driscoll played the part of Thomas Pittman Carothers, a young portrait painter who lives in a flat with his sister Rose (Ruth Morris). The artist receives a visit from M. S. DeYorburgh Smith (Lora Hyden) a wealthy society woman who wishes a portrait of her daughter Sylvia (Antonia Weber). Fearing the girl may fall in love with the artist if she finds him unmarried, an arrangement is made whereby Rose is to pose as Tommy's wife when he is present. This leads to numerous amusing complications in which Dick Grannis, Tommy's Cham (Earl Haas), Patty Campbell, a student at the dramatic school (Zulah Bridges) Pierre de Banton, a French fencing master, (Francis Waring) and Edith Bronson, a friend of Rose (Ruby Davis) play prominent parts. In the closing scene all misunderstandings are explained satisfactorily.

Several selections were rendered by the hi school orchestra, the members of which are as follows: Director—Miss Drape; as follows: Earl Carder, George Burchinco, Earl Haas, Carroll Lriscol, piano; Zulah Bridges, Antonia Weber, drum—Ellis Cravens. A. E. Nordlund and N. M. Graham assisted.

The Girls' Glee Club sang so well that they received a hearty encore. The members of the club are: Soprano—Ruth Morris, Antonia Weber, Meza Stone, Lora Hyden, Hester McDonald, Edith McDonald, Lillian Burch, Viola Daic, Gladys Riddle, Kathryn Ludy, Miss Snyder, Corinne Clem, Mildred Hale, Elizabeth Delaway, Lenor Cravens. Alto—Dorothy Tweedy, Zulah Bridges, Jessie Beckstead, Ruby Davis.

On Wednesday evening the faculty, students and alumni were entertained most charmingly by Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bechtelheimer.

er. Merry games, school songs, fortune telling by the astrologer (Mrs. Beckstead), solos by Mr. Bechtelheimer, made the time pass all too quickly. Earl Carder was presented with a handsome pin as a farewell token from his class. Mr. Monroe presented letters to the athletic class for their work in the basketball teams, as follows: Earl Haas, Earl Carder, Maurice Beckstead, Leslie Johnson, Merrick Geschwind. A letter was sent to Maurice Beckstead, who is absent in the navy. Refreshments of cake and sherbet were served. Those invited were Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Monroe, Mrs. Beckstead, Miss Agnes Ralph, Clara Rooksky, Lulu Draper, Virginia Williams, Ruth Morris, Zulah Bridges, Dorothy Tweedy, Antonia Weber, Hester McDonald, Ruby Davis, Jessie Beckstead, Marguerite Coig, Lora Hyden, Viola Daic, Della Grant, Kathryn Ludy, Theresa Coig, Elias Schneider, Gladys Riddle, Lillian Burch, Meza Stone, Lenor Cravens, Mildred Hale, Corinne Clements, Mariel Monroe, Elizabeth Delaway, Adie and Edith Haas, Louisa Davis, Messrs. Solly Patrick, Harvey Mitchell, Earl Haas, Carroll Driscoll, Geo. Burch, Earl Carder, Ellis Cravens, Fawn Peck, Henry Wintz, Edwin Dickie, Wayne Davis, Beem Hyden, Ralph Brown, Francis Waring.

This evening the Commencement exercises will be held in the auditorium. The complete program was published last week.

WOMAN'S CLUB

HOLDS ANNUAL PICNIC AT THE TWEEDY RANCH

New Officers for Ensuing Year Installed and Standing Committees Appointed—Five Dollars Donated to the Red Cross Work

The last regular meeting of the Woman's Club for the year was held at the home of Mrs. Jackson Tweedy June 20, with Mrs. Helen Hubler assistant hostess. At noon a sumptuous picnic lunch was spread under the big trees to which every one did ample justice.

At 3 o'clock there was a short business session. The amendment to the bylaws providing for the filling of vacancies on the board was accepted. Mrs. A. C. Brubaker was then elected as a member of the board according to the provisions of the amendment. It was voted to give five dollars to assist in Red Cross work.

The new officers were officially installed by the retiring president, Mrs. Monroe, who made appropriate remarks as she handed the gavel to her successor, Mrs. Morris. Mrs. Morris graciously responded, thanking the members for the honor they had bestowed upon her. She then assumed charge of the meeting and announced the following committees:

Federation Secretary—Mrs. G. W. Monroe.
Historian—Miss Agnes Ralph.
Parliamentarian, Mrs. Geo. Graff.
Clerk—Mrs. W. B. Hyden, Mrs. Wm. McGeech, Mrs. A. C. Trexler.
Legislative—Mrs. F. A. Orton, Mrs. T. A. Hull.

Library—Miss Clara Rooksky, Mrs. A. Gallow, Mrs. A. Jeffrey, Mrs. J. Harris.
Hospitality—Mrs. C. A. Van Dyke, Mrs. G. F. Kelley, Mrs. R. J. Engesott.

Membership—Mrs. C. F. Riddle, Mrs. J. Smith, Mrs. J. A. Giddings, Mrs. M. J. Ely.
Remembrance—Mrs. Helen Mitchell, Mrs. J. T. Hadley.
Press—Mrs. L. C. Kimball, Mrs. J. E. Lose.

In view of the fact that changes are soon to be made in the management of the public library, the club pledged their support to the library committee. The club has increased in membership and has enjoyed a most profitable year in the study of a miscellaneous program. The club adjourned for the summer vacation with expression of pleasure mingled with regret of parting but with the best and sincerest wishes for the coming year's work.

ADAH R. BECHTELHEIMER

Mr. and Mrs. Monroe, Mr. and Mrs. Waring and Mr. and Mrs. Bechtelheimer and their families motored to Hollywood last Saturday evening to attend the concert given by the Royal Italian Band for the benefit of the Red Cross.

ADAH R. BECHTELHEIMER

Mr. and Mrs. Monroe, Mr. and Mrs. Waring and Mr. and Mrs. Bechtelheimer and their families motored to Hollywood last Saturday evening to attend the concert given by the Royal Italian Band for the benefit of the Red Cross.

Show your patriotism by going to the Grand Canyon Travelogue at the hi school auditorium July 2, at 8 p. m.

Reil Dismukes and his sister, Miss Mamie, are spending the summer with their uncle, Frank Goodall and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick H. Eiler, Miss Elda Hubler and Miss Catherine Donner attended the hi school play Tuesday evening.

Solly Patrick is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Bechtelheimer. Solly came out to attend the school party and will remain until Saturday.

Miss Arabella Crain and Harry Bevis were married on June 20, at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. M. V. Carr. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Miller of Van Nuys. Miss Ruth Ely acted as bridesmaid, with J. Rasor as the groomsmen. The newlyweds left after the wedding for an auto trip to San Francisco. They will live at Van Nuys.

75 MORE HIGH GRADE CATTLE FOR E. B. R.

D. O. Brant, manager of the dairy department of the Elliott Brant Rancho, has succeeded in buying 75 head of pure bred registered cattle and will ship same to Owensmouth from Boston by Wells-Fargo-express. The express charges on the cattle will amount to $2,000. The total cost of the cattle will be $50,000.

BE PATRIOTIC!

There is no better way to cultivate high grade love of native land than to enjoy the beauties of our natural scenery. Go to the Grand Canyon of the Colorado in Arizona, 200 miles long, 13 broad and 6,000 feet deep. God brushed a billion gallons of many colored paints into these wonderful rocks. In this one and only great natural wonder in the whole wide world are the silences of dry, death and immortality. The Prince will illustrate his delightfully interesting travelogue with moving pictures and stereoscopic slides. He will also give instructive slides in his travels at the logging camps in his redwood district, the petrified forest and cliff dwellings. A few humorous reads for relaxation.

The first payment on the new lanterns at the hi school auditorium will be made from part of the proceeds of this entertainment and all the money will remain in Owensmouth. Mr. Prince denotes all the proceeds to local benevolence.

All the community that can talk, ride or hobble will be there, and a delegation from San Fernando is expected in machines.

Bring the children, send the young people, the farm hands, everybody to hear the patriotic philanthropist enlarge on the glories of our beloved country that envious eyes in Europe would fain despise but never can.

Monday, July 2. Postponed to this date on account of excessive heat of former date.

Adults 25c, children and students 15c.

Address: Community C. R. 8, Hartman, the Van Nuys Jeweler, Jew watches and jewelry repairing.

RED CROSS WEEK

OWENSMOUTH CONTRIBUTED $42 TO WAR FUND

Seventeen New Members Added to the Owensmouth Branch as Result of Special Drive for Increased Membership

Mrs. W. B. Hyden was appointed as solicitor for Precinct 600 for the special Red Cross fund, being assisted by Mrs. Fred Balders. The ladies secured $42. Los Angeles contributed more than a million dollars to the Red Cross War Fund last week.

On Monday evening Mrs. Driscoll entertained the members of the Owensmouth branch of the Red Cross and others interested in the work. The purpose of the meeting was the planning of work to be assumed by this branch. Two committees were named, the membership committee, with Mrs. Hadley as chairman, and the work committee, with Mrs. Haas as chairman.

Nineteen new members were reported and a check for five dollars for the work was received from Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hadley. The women are planning to set in sewing for the Red Cross. The meetings will all be held in the church room of the syndicate block. The first meeting will be held on Thursday, July 5, and all women and girls are invited.

For the entertainment of the guests the Misses Lillian Burch and Jessie Beckstead gave a charming piano duet and the Rev. Geo. Graff gave a sane and stirring address upon the aims of the United States in this war, and urged intelligent activity on the part of all.

Mrs. Driscoll exhibited a box of Red Cross surgical bandages and told of the work which is being carried forward by the society at large.

The Red Cross Branch, unlike other organizations, has no set time for meetings, as it is purely a work society. Its membership is not limited and the only requirement is the payment of one dollar as annual dues. It is earnestly hoped that everyone in this vicinity will join the local Red Cross Branch. Hand your dollar to Mrs. Hadley, the membership chairman, or to Mrs. Driscoll, chairman of the local branch.

At the close of the program cake and punch were served and a silver offering of $3.20 was received.

There will be a special Patriotic program at the Community Church, Sunday School next Sunday.

OWENSMOUTH, CAL., FRIDAY, JUNE 29, 1917

Owensmouth people are responding nobly to the Red Cross appeal and as the demand for assistance to the injured soldiers increases the need will be met by thousands of generous contributions of money and services. Thousands of men who had no part in creating the European inferno are being horribly mutilated every day. Many of these victims of Germanic butchery may be saved from untold agony if ALL do their part in the Red Cross work.

The United States Congress is manifesting a subservience to the liquor interests which is most humiliating to the people of the Nation. The matter of War Prohibition in connection with National Food Control is persistently evaded by Congress, with a view to compelling President Wilson to decide the issue, thus making him the target for criticism from many quarters. Is the Whisky Ring more to be feared than the German Government? Is it possible that England and America are such slaves to strong drink that the Governments of these two Nations are willing to jeopardize their very existence rather than eliminate the most demoralizing element with which they have to contend? The loss of the half billion dollars in liquor revenues would be many times compensated for by the increased efficiency of the people as a whole.

SUBMARINE EARTHQUAKES.

The Ocean Often Takes Swift Revenge

When struck by the Land. To say that a ship in midocean might be destroyed by an earthquake seems paradoxical and absurd, yet it is true. Whenever a submarine convulsion occurs beneath or at the edge of the sea the water will be agitated proportionately to its force. Strike a tub of water a gentle tap and see how its liquid contents shiver and ripple. Watch a railway train running at the edge of a body of water and observe how the water trembles under the concussion of the wheels upon the ground. Earthquake shocks give rise sometimes to great disturbances, either by a direct jar to the water or by setting in motion waves whose rolling does damage, especially in confined harbors. Sometimes a port will be suddenly invaded by a wave, the cause of which was an earthquake, which rolls in upon a wall and carries death and destruction in its course.

Such catastrophes are not uncommon in volcanic districts, where the ocean retreats with terrific vengeance when it is struck by the land. That appalling explosion in 1883 of Krakatoa, in the strait of Sunda, was followed on neighboring coasts by a series of vast billows that rolled inland, deluging a wide extent of territory, sweeping away some 150 villages and crushing or drowning more than 30,000 persons. Within a few hours the coasts of northern Japan have been inundated repeatedly by earthquake waves with similar dire calamities, and they are likely to occur again.

Now and then earthquakes are felt even in the open sea, far from land. Thus Captain Lecky, a scientific writer upon the sea, tells us that in one instance where he was present the inland upon the captain's table was jerked upward during the coiling, where it left an unmistakable record of the occurrence, and yet this vessel was steaming along in smooth water, many hundreds of fathoms deep. "The convulsions," he says, "were so slight that passengers were scarcely out of their seats, and, of course, thought that the vessel had run ashore." All this disturbance was, nevertheless, only the result of a shock at the bottom, and when the seismologic nature of water is considered the severity of the jar is not surprising.—"Book of the Ocean," by Ernest Ingersoll.

Long Widowhood.

In 1753, in the ninety-sixth year of her age, died Jean, countess of Roxburgh. She was not a very remarkable woman, but her memory is preserved on account of her long widowhood, which lasted seventy-one years. Her father, the first Lord Tweeddale, fought at Marston Moor in 1644. The Countess of Roxburgh's long widowhood is insignificant when compared with that of a certain Agnes Skinner. According to an inscription in Caniswell church, this worthy woman died in 1499 at the age of 119 years, having survived her husband only eight years less than a century. London Telegraph.

A Famous Paris Sign.

Paris is a city of curious signboards, one of the most remarkable ones representing a tobacconist's sign at 55 Rue du Chateau-d'Eau, which has been there ever since 1870. It is riddled with holes made by the bullets of the Prussians, and the occupant of the shop states that so far as he is aware it is the only public relic of the Franco-Prussian war in evidence in the streets of Paris today. "My sign," he added, "has many plenty customers. I wouldn't part with it for anything."

Parian Wisdom.

Do not talk about repentance to me. What is the use of regret? Ethel hood tells you repent; truth says laye holy. Whatever was alien to God remains not. Shut off all remembrance from yourself. We are embarrassed by traditions on our way. Speak not about the past; in the shadow of love, and let everything else pass on.

Catapult for the Mint.

"I wish to marry your daughter, sir."
"Why? You don't make enough to keep her in hats."
"That's not it. Then do me a favor, will you? Just make your cat's paw strong and let me back out gracefully. I might be able to make her happy, but if a clerk I'd never be."—Detroit Free Press.

How Deb Was Collected

By WILLIAM CHANDLER

Among the strange people in the world the strangest to me are those who consider it their duty to give largely, but in transactions of a business nature are invariably mean. Such characters are common among rich men, whose motive usually is to make something, even out of their donations—men who don't hide their light under a bushel. But Miss Euphemia Baxter was not at all such a person. Few knew of her charities. She supported an old woman for years who had been an intimate friend of her mother's. At the same time she beat her landlady down to starvation prices. She lived in a hall bedroom herself and spent a lot of money fixing up a home for an invalid aunt. It was the furniture to go into this home that I cost Miss Baxter.

"Have you confessed that you were deceiving her?"
"You bet I haven't, and I never will! I've got the money she gave me yet. I'm trying to find a way to get it to her to help her with the trosson."

"How do you succeed?"
"Make out a list of articles you'll need to furnish a house and they shall be my wedding gift."
English Underlined.
We observe that in his Finland tale the story Rudyard Kipling uses the phrase "under the circumstances." It is no doubt supported by usage, but all the same we are rather surprised to see it employed by such a master of English style. The proper expression must surely be "in the circumstances," since it is difficult to see how you can be supposed to be "under" the things that stand around you. There is no old controversy on the subject, and we thought the matter had been settled long ago. However, "in the circumstances," we venture on this gentle protest in the interest of English pure and undefiled.—London Globe.

THE NODES

UNLESS you learn to cut out foods which have no digestive value through cooking or other process that alters their iron and changes muscle tissues into fats your fat will make you sick. Fats are sick flesh.

It is long before the fat is ripened, the germs or sprouts are floating in liquid a short distance apart. These eyes are electrical nodes. Nodes are vacuums. These vacuums take in the heat and moisture from the sun's rays and expand. We call this expansion germination, or sprouting. The moisture as it is operated by the sun's rays becomes active, or expandable, the same as a kettles of water boils by fire.

As the germs expand moisture rises and passes on in the form of gas. As the moisture passes of the nodes shrink and harden and split open like a bean pod. By the pods, or cells, splitting open another, but finer variety of electrical nodes, or germs, are permitted to fall out and begin to grow; and, being of microscopic size germs, or nodes which produces the red color in honey and blood and fruits and gives us the muscular characteristics of the body. Honey that is not ripened red has but few nodes; and these few are wrapped up in the liquids as they are, forming a large potato has but few nodes, and these few are almost too weak to sprout at all. Housewives who buy potatoes in those cases the largest potatoes, as it takes peeling so many, but the small potatoes have the largest number and the most active nodes, which impart the most life to the body when it is eaten.

Unless honey is ripened red it reverses the rotary motion of the sun's rays and all system with uric acid, which is yellow. Yellow is a mixture of green and red and is formed by these nodes, or molecules, being in a rotary arrangement, so that they flick in the backward direction. In red ripe honey the nodes are of one special size which are enlarged to the size of which correct cells are formed. If we correct the cells, we correct the whole system.

But causes the cells to begin at the bottom, or smallest sized, and build upward until the cells are completed, like an apple or any fruit being small and enlarges by changing the size of their cells. Unless the cells of our bodies are began with red we will be unable to use water in all of its seven forms, which turns the appetite to hot drinks and gaseous stimulants. Every other color besides red mixes in gas which produces bitterness, and bitter destroys the saliva.

In order to explain the form and use of nodes I give the following illustration: First, you imagine a large sized cracker box. Then fill the large sized box with small sized boxes, and fill the small sized boxes with still smaller sized boxes. Then fill the small boxes with gum boxes; and the gum boxes with still smaller boxes, and so down until there are seven sized, all enclosed by the one large box, and we have a representation of a cell and its germs, or nodes.

There are no cells produced that are not begun by red. If they begin by any other color they cease their growth and act like a yellow, sickly plant.

Some animals and some persons retain the nodes, or germs, longer than others because the red is used up in producing brain matter. If we do supply the blood with red it does not take a long time until the brain begins to get weak. The cells or nodes do not go to the brain but the germs, or seeds, do, and produce the variations in the temper.

On Thursday afternoon, June 14, the Ladies' Aid Society met with Mrs. Langendorfer and in spite of the fact that it was the first real hot day of the season quite a number of ladies assembled, and two new members were received. The usual business session was conducted by the president. After adjournment the time was spent by the ladies in sewing for the Aid work till later in the afternoon, when the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Peck, appeared with ice cream and dainty cakes, which looked so refreshing and tempting that all with one accord laid down their work to enjoy the treat. Ladies, if you do not belong to our society, come and join and help us to aid the church. You will find a hearty welcome.—Press Reporter.

NOTICE TO IRRIGATORS

Water service for irrigation is to be for continuous service, night and day, until delivery of the amount applied for is complete.

This is made necessary by the reason that the mains are all designed for continuous flow service and if irrigators use water during the day time only, it necessarily follows that the pipe system would have to be doubled in capacity. Hence, in making application for water, the irrigator will state when he wants his term to begin, and the approximate time at which he desires it to end, always assuming continuous use.

The foregoing is effective on and after this date.

WM. MULHOLAND,
Chief Engineer.

VANOMAR PRODUCERS PREPARING FOR BUSY SEASON

Everything is in readiness for the opening of the fruit canning season at the local plant of the Vanomar Producers, says the Van Nuya News. It is expected that the apricot pack will start early next week and with the amount of that fruit and the peaches in sight to be handled by the company, a long campaign is assured.

The cutting benches have been placed in a different direction, the grader has been raised to operate more easily, all steam pipes have been covered with asbestos, a new pit belt has been added, the washer has been enlarged—all with a view to lowering operation expense and getting greater efficiency.

A new boiler has been installed and the oil tanks have been practically rebuilt to prevent leakage. Among the new machinery installed is one of the largest type of cookers made. This machine will hold 1800 cans at a time and will turn out 120 cans a minute. The other types only turn out 45 cans. This will bring the total daily capacity of the cannery up to 72,000 cans as against 24,000 last year.

Another new machine is the pie cooker, which is designed for large gallon cans. As to materials and the facilities for handling the fruits and vegetables for the growers, nothing seems to be overlooked.

On the floor of the warehouse today are cans representing values of $16,000, and over $8,000 worth of sugar. Ten thousand picking boxes and 4,000 cooling trays have been made.

It is the intention of the cannery to pack a large quantity of tomato ketchup this season in 5 gallon containers, which will be used by the tuna and sardine packers along the coast.

The association has handled 12 cars of potatoes at $2.85 to $3.35, f.o.b. cars at Van Nuya.
