

CANTEEN WORKERS CATER TO POLLS' APPETITE FOR OYSTERS AND SALADS

By ELEANOR ROBSON BELMONT.

WHEN I left for Europe a few months ago I had no enthusiastic thoughts for the Red Cross. When I returned from Europe I brought home with me I had seen enough to make me realize that this was the best method of relieving the economic war. Therefore I was the most effective way to help in through the established channels selected for that purpose by the government.

The main work of the American Red Cross, however, is, of course, carried on in France. The policy of those leaving this to be back up the French in their own efforts and to help them develop along their own lines, not to rest on French generosity and transplant American ones. Whether we work, then, in canteens, in workhouses, in Paris, or in Bolivia or for refugees in Porto or but used for this purpose are little values marked "Paris," "Dijon," or "Lyon." These little values are laid out with banks filled with sleeping men. If a policy is going to Paris, be thrown himself down in the Paris bank, serene in the knowledge that he will be called in time for the Paris train.

In some of the canteens the lights have to be dimmed on account of a poor lighting. Often the lights are covered with colored muslin shelds which make a ray glow that is more decorative than any of the best camouflage artists in France, who have taken great delight in covering the walls and even the ceiling with their own designs. The canteens are closed day and night for the benefit of the men at the big junction points.

Do More Than Feed Men.

The women in the canteens do more than feed the men. They are doing for them. In Paris leaving their families are naturally depressed and need sympathetic listeners. Some one to admire his wife's picture, some one to laugh over the humor of his wife's dress, some one to tell him that the oddest boy in the village of his handsome father—this is as real as the women in such an influence for good that offers say the morale of arms to distinctly higher wherever the canteens are. This comes great rivety among the Russian workers best and most popular in the service. Besides direct, personal service to the soldiers the Red Cross is doing disbursements. We have fifteen dispensaries scattered through districts where war has been or is likely to be. France had mobilized 18,000 of men and 24,000 physicians, leaving only 100,000 men and 100,000 physicians. Sometimes you will find out during a long time of transportation except in a case of a doctor, you will find out in a chance to see the Red Cross step in and help. There is a general of physicians in the Red Cross who find out at a certain village, or taking a medical adviser to the Red Cross center and operate in a given section around the center.

Babies in Laundry.

A Red Cross mother aid nurse goes out regularly to the villages in their section. Each and every child who is in need of advice or treatment is taken to the center and not any unnecessary call. Of course, if a nurse is too ill to call on the mother, she will send one of the nurses carry among other things a shower bath for babies, owing to lack of facilities, bathing is a luxury, and the superior of France, owing to that it is a luxury. Now since the mothers are so crowded that a child is not injured, but on the contrary benefited by bath, how they are sent forward to the center. After all this inspiring activity of the Red Cross on the other side of the Atlantic, I expected the work to be done. I was not. I was not. When I returned to see what we were accomplishing at home.

OWENSMOUTH, CAL., FRIDAY, MAY 10, 1918.

The Red Cross needs one hundred millions of dollars which will carry on its humanitarian work. A special campaign for funds will be made during the week of May 20. Be prepared to do your part.

The people of Owensmouth, Calabasas, Chatsworth, Zelzah, and Marian have demonstrated their Americanism in a most convincing manner by subscribing for more than four times the amount of Third Liberty Loan Bonds allotted this district.

On another page of this issue appears an extended announcement regarding the "Farm Products Exhibit" to be held at the Owensmouth HI School on June 15. This is a most commendable undertaking and should receive the hearty cooperation of the people of the valley.

We have National, State, County and City Food Administration Bureaus; State and County Councils of Defence, Farm Bureaus, etc., but no remedy has yet been discovered for the enormous waste of food on the farms. At the present time many carloads of cabbages in this valley are being destroyed because the price offered by buyers will not cover the marketing expenses. Tons of potatoes are being fed to hogs. Onions and other produce decay in the fields. At the same time, many dwellers in the cities would be glad to get this food. Can not some plan be devised for conserving it? The amount of produce wasted at the source of supply is many fold greater than the savings effected by the consumers.

THE WAR, THE FARM AND THE FARMER

By Herbert Quirk
Member Federal Farm Loan Board

The farms of this country could carry the war to a victorious conclusion even if all the rest of the nation should quit. The rest will not quit, but we could win it without them if we had to do it. The farmers of the United States can whip Germany. We can whip them with guns. We can whip them with our products. We can whip them with our money. We can whip them with our brains.

Every farmer in the United States must remember that the war has a first mortgage on every cent he has. The last years spent in the pockets of every farmer in America should be devoted to the war.

The Kaiser began foreclosing his mortgage on our farms when he declared ruthless submarine warfare against our merchant ships. He has foreclosed.

Our contribution is, first, our sons and brothers for the trenches; second, the last pound of food products which we can grow by mobilizing our man, woman and child and the labor of our women and children and the labor of our people about us; and third, money for Liberty Bonds.

This is the crucial year of the war. Our soldiers are at the front, hundreds of thousands of them in the trenches, and a million more ready to go. The whole burden of carrying on our own part in the war, of equipping our sister nations in arms, rests on the United States Treasury.

If the treasury fails or falters or finds itself unable to respond to every call upon it, the war is lost. Do you realize that?

Your son, and all the nation's sons are relying on the United States Treasury to furnish things with which they may fight.

Their lives are lost if the treasury fails. Our country is lost if the treasury fails.

While Gerard was our ambassador in Berlin, the Kaiser said to him one day that he would stand no nonsense from America after the war. Do you know what that means? It means that the Germans intend to subjugate this country if they come out this war victorious. The German Imperial government has preached the superiority of Germany to all the rest of the world until the German nation is drunk with megalomania. One of their great writers expressed the prevailing official view in 1903, when he wrote:

"The Teutonic race is called upon to circle the earth with its rails, to exploit the treasures of nature and of human power, and to make the passive races servant elements in its cultural development. It is the duty of the Teutonic race is superior. All the dark peoples are mainly inferior, because they belong to the passive races. The cultural value of a nation is measured by the quantity of Teutonism it contains."

Are you one of the darker races? Are you willing to be rated as one of the "servant elements" in Germany's cultural development? You begin to be one of the "servant elements" when peaceful people were slaughtered in their carried you professed to market. Was it because you belonged to a "passive race"?

This war is for the purpose of saying to that insane claim, with the year of a hundred thousand cannon— Never since the Turks threatened to overwhelm Europe was there a world in such danger as now. Germany must be defeated this year. Unless it falls, our place in the world is with our history as one of the "servant elements" begins. We will not allow the support of the war. We must give into the hands of the United States every cent we can spare.

This summer the support of the war is up to the farmers; and Uncle Sam has never called upon the farmers in this way.

"KILL THE ANTI-SUGAR BEET PROPAGANDA"

The Owensmouth Gazette has been requested to publish the following, taken from the Scientific American:

"A very definite and insidious propaganda against the growing of sugar beets is now showing its effects in our Western States and Federal food administrators in the states and counties where sugar beets are grown may well be on the lookout for this propaganda and be prompt in killing it. The general effect is to discourage the beet farmer and reduce acreage, by suggesting unprofitable prices for sugar in our next fall. Any reduction in our sugar beet acreage would serve two purposes for Germany—first, a direct shrinkage in this war-time crop; second, the crippling of our industry for the advantage of German beet sugar. Since the war we have made this country independent of Germans for sugar beet seed, replacing inferior Russian strains formerly sold us by Germany with pedigreed seed of our own breeding. We must make our country as nearly independent of outside sources of sugar supply as possible."

Springtime is here. This is shown by the hike several boys took in the hills back of Chatsworth.

Walter Mack, Harold and Armour Trexler, Forrest and Raymond Worth and Merrill Johnson composed the group.

The boys started on the afternoon of April, 26. Raymond and Merrill went up on horseback an hour after the others had started.

The boys reported a pleasant trip Sunday morning when they arrived after camping three nights on their way homeward.

GLADYS RIDGLE, Assistant Editor

The following letters from the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce is self-explanatory:

To all worthy relief organizations: Dozens of the crates you are more or less familiar with the worthy drive launched by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce for the "California French Relief Fund" to ship at once two thousand tons of necessities to the suffering population of France where thousands upon thousands of the women and children of our Allies are being heard for and are in the direst need.

Our time is so short we are appealing to your organization to cooperate with us in this worthy cause, as our campaign must end on May 15th and it is a physical impossibility to reach the necessary goal thru our organization alone by personal solicitation.

We will accept everything, but mention at once desirable: flour, beans, rice, dried fruit, flour kiddies condensed milk. Every pound of food and every nickel will go 100 per cent to France, and there will be distributed by the American Red Cross Society. The success of this campaign is being borne by the members of this committee.

Contributions or supplies may be left at 224 S. Hill Street or called for by parcel delivery. Money and money for the purchase of supplies sent to the "Chamber of Commerce California French Relief Fund."

The Vanamor Producers cannery is now busy with the spinach pack. The quality of spinach being produced this year is extra fine and should bring good prices to growers. The pack will be pooled. It is estimated there will be about 65 acres of this product to be handled.—Van Nuys News.

The cooked food sale of the W. C. T. U. at Robash's store last Saturday must have been a success for the ladies sold out their entire stock, and we are told they netted more than $25.
