OWENSMOUTH, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, AUGUST 9, 1918

NUMBER 38

Personal and Local Notes

Miss Laura Hyden is visiting relatives at Ocean Beach.

Miss Clara A. Roshop spent yesterday in Owensmouth attending Red Cross.

Rev. McAnnon, who was minister here five years ago, preached at the Community Church on Sunday.

Miss Beal and Miss Langendorfer of Los Angeles spent last week in Owensmouth with the latter's brother, R. L. Langendorfer.

Harlem G. Palmer and William J. Palmer of Hollywood called at the Gazette office in interest of the coming election.

Wanted—Red Cross knitters. Headquarters have issued a urgent call for sweaters and socks. Do your bit. Don't be a slacker, be a knitter.

Mrs. and Mrs. R. L. Langendorfer had as guests at a picnic at the beach Sunday Miss Hater and Mrs. Jewell and son of Los Angeles.

At a meeting of the directors of the Vancouver Producers in Van Nuys Monday it was decided to pay $45 a ton for cling peaches and $35 a ton for free-stone peaches.

The people of Owensmouth are very grateful to the city street department for the repair work done on Sherman Way through the townsite. It is certainly a decided improvement and the job is well done.

Mrs. Alex Jeffrey wishes to correct the article published in the last number of the Gazette advertising the Red Cross Carnival at Marlon, on August 10 as a benefit for the Los Angeles Red Cross. The proceeds will go to the Junior Red Cross of the Marlon school.

Mrs. Jack Ely entertained a number of friends with a dance party, Monday evening, July 22, in honor of her husband, Sergeant Jack Ely, and their home guest, Sergeant Roy Bellah, from Camp Kearny. A buffet luncheon was served at midnight, but with no thought of "Revels" dancing continued. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Ely, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bevis, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Miller, Mrs. Marjorie Carr; Misses Addie Haas, Isabelle Edmonds, Ruth Ely, Edith Haas, Hal- lo Huffaker, Alice Chase, Laura Huffaker and Opal Paxton; Messrs. Charles Coulter, Lester Eskew, Joe Chase, S. W. Hattie, Robert Connors and Earl Haas—Van Nuys News.

S. W. Falter is back from a visit of several weeks' duration at his former home in Colfax, Ia. He reports an enjoyable trip, but is glad to be back in California. Mr. Falter says fruit is very high in the east, especially California fruit. He states that apricots sold at retail for 15 cents a dozen. Mrs. Falter remains in the east for an indefinite stay with her parents.

Editor Whitaker of the Zetiah Tribune made the Tribune office a pleasant call on Saturday last. Mr. Whitaker is a live wire in his community and is a great booster for the San Fernando Valley. He is a fearless champion of the people's right and knows neither fear nor favor in dealing with matters affecting the general good. Zetiah is indeed fortunate in having a man of his ability as editor of the local paper and every citizen should give the Tribune hearty financial and moral support.

Mrs. W. E. Hechtelshmer entertained a company of young people on Thursday evening of last week in honor of Miss Doyle Greve, of England, who was a guest of the Misses Mary and Lillian Thomason. The guests were the Misses Addie and Edith Haas, May, Lillian and Lucile Thomason; Earl Haas and Francis Waring.

Mr. and Mrs. I. P. Mitchell had as guests on Saturday and Sunday the former's uncle, Orson R. Pease, and wife, formerly of Rochester, Minnesota, of Long Beach; also Mr. Mitchell's cousin, Elmer Davis, and wife, of Pasadena.

Owing to the demand for irrigating water, consumers will be confined to the use of water for the time specified in their applications.

Thirty auto tires were stolen from the Huffaker garage in Van Nuys on Friday night of last week.

A meeting of Royal Arch Masons will be held in lodge rooms of Van Nuys Blue Lodge Wednesday evening August 14. At this time Hollywood Chapter R. A. M. will confer the M. M. Degree on team from San Fernando Valley. All Royal Arch Masons cordially invited.

RED CROSS NOTICE!

An all-day meeting of Red Cross workers will be held on Tuesday at the library. Ladies are urged to bring their lunches.

IOWA PICNIC REUNION

Hawkeyes Meet August 10, Bixby Park, Long Beach
Twenty-five thousand Hawkeyes are expected when the great annual Iowa picnic is held in beautiful Bixby Park, Long Beach, Saturday, August 10th, 1918. The ever-popular county registers will be in place all day, basket dinners at noon, hot coffee provided, and program opening about 2 o'clock.

DELICIOUS CORN MUFFINS.

Here's an old fashioned recipe for corn muffins that has recently been revived and used with unusual success in several of the larger New York hotels: To make three and a half dozen muffins take one quart milk, six ounces butter softened, twelve ounces of light syrup or honey, four eggs, pinch of salt, two ounces baking powder, one and a half pounds cornmeal, and one and a half pounds rye flour. The butter and syrup should be thoroughly mixed; then add the eggs gradually mixed with the milk and add the rye flour. Pour in the cornmeal and baking powder.

MARIAN NOTES

The Marian Mothers' Club held a very interesting meeting Friday, August 2. Mrs. McClure related how she had attended the War Trophies Exposition at Exposition Park; and very interesting it was and well worth anyone's time to attend. The secretary, Mrs. Showalter, reported 102 garments completed for the French and Belgian Relief. Also reported that Mr. J. C. Condon had volunteered to take the articles to Los Angeles. The club is very busy engaged in War Relief work, and is accomplishing great work far into the future, and has plans to help with the war.

MRS. H. B. HIBTOL, Jr., Member of Committee.

LIBRARY NOTES

The Library has received direct from Congressman Chas. Randall a beautiful map of the United States.

For the month of July 620 books were distributed.

New books come in the first and third Wednesdays of each month.

The custodian is allowed to let out five books to one person during vacation.

The Library had its flag stolen the Fourth of July, and is anxious to have another. Donations in cash may be given and the custodian will make it.

There will be a Farm Bureau meeting at the Marian school on Thursday August 22. This meeting will be for the discussion of the cost of raising beans in this valley and will be in conjunction with the Owensmouth Bean Growers' Association. The Farm Bureau and Bean Growers' Association of Van Nuys will be invited to attend. Mrs. Harvard will serve local grown tepary beans.

REAL STUFF

This oxide described next week can be drunk at such times of day and in such amount, and in such a manner as to destroy, or even reverse the natural effect. In order to work fast and think fast, people of the world have to eat food that digests fast. Oxygen requires three days to digest while most of the common foods digest in less than three hours.

You pride yourself on being supposed to be a human being; but you are not human so long as you are on unatural substances. The ferment I am recommending is a natural product. The first ferment is a natural process because it is produced every day from the fresh water and honey. Vinegar and alcohol are caused to ferment over and over every day for weeks, in the making.

The earth turns round on its axis daily which turns the sides of the cells to or from the sun, for every 90° of the sun's oblique an entire differential of substructure of cells is produced. That is, the amount of darkness is balanced by its equivalent amount of light. It is this lack of balance in light and shade which makes the cells wobble so that we cannot see objects according to their true aspect.

As it alters our seeing, taste and feeling, from this morbid condition of matter, we get our understanding. From this we should be able to see how important it is to let nature do our cooking and compounding of our foods. From the shadows we receive the greater darkness. We are not to condense the sun's rays and then their expansion by light produces activity among the cells. When food is exhausted so the expansiveness is halted so that it cools down to a point lower than any living germs in the vegetable and animal life expansion is killed.

Then the dead matter borrows vital energy from the living cells of the body. And the most unrealistic of the most inside red, to exclude and combat outside forces. Red is an inside operation. You lose individuality if you are lacking the red. You can't move without an overcoat to burn oxygen for you.

It is when the temperature rises that oxygen expands the cells and the weakest cells are the first to be crushed by the weight of cell construction. It is these weaker cells which are in proper condition to desire or receive the food eaten. This most active form of oxygen appears in the arteries at about 11 a. m. daily. At 11 to 12 o'clock we should eat the main part of our food, and the food should be red or near to become red.

Red oxidizes the mind by condensing the thoughts so that the gossip and lighter matters are expelled by the weight of cell construction. For this reason the ferment should be drunk from near the bottom of the crock, in order to get the heaviest oxygen. The heaviest oxygen is contained in the spherical form of cells but the less vital grade of oxygen near the top is contained in the form of cell construction in form like dried mud cracks and forms square. Thus people of the world are constantly injuring and robbing oxygen in order to square with the world.

Red is from the earth, not from the fire. By cooking the red is destroyed and when the food changes so as to cause people to regard the motions of the world of great things. Continued on 4th Page.

THE WAR, THE FARM AND THE FARMER

By Herbert Quick
Member Federal Farm Loan Board

What the Imperial German government offered the farmers of America is its ruthless submarine warfare was not the loss of profits, but slavery to the laborer of Potemkin. His purpose was to make us slaves by murder, but the people who took our products to market, by all the laws of civilized warfare, composed under a neutral flag was free from any hindrance except the legal interference justified by war. But the Germans not only stopped merchant vessels, they sank them. Sank them without warning, without trace—the most devilish thing war has seen since the savages scalped our ancestors and threw screaming babies into the flames of burning cabins.

The German plan of sinking merchant vessels without trace is based on the murderer's maxim that "dead men tell no tales." It was executed by the massacre of men, women and children, who having committed themselves to small boats in the open sea after their ships were torpedoed, were mercilessly raked with gunfire, and exterminated to the last unprotected, unpledged soul! These are the murders that stain the hands of the Kaiser, his advisers and minions. These outrages were perpetrated on neutral vessels when all that civilized warfare gave the Germans a right to do even with the merchant vessel under a hostile flag, was to stop it at sea and make it a prize of war.

To kill the civilians on board, even under a hostile flag, was nothing but unmitigated murder. And these murders were committed in order that we might be enslaved! Having the right to take the sea with his feet, but being afraid to do so for fear he might lose it, and being unable by fair means to stop the selling of our products to his enemies, the Kaiser declared that he would do it by the foulest methods ever resorted to in war. He declared the sea closed, and that he would keep it closed, not by war, but by murder.

To have submitted would have cost us dear in property but that would have been the least of our loss.

We should have had to grovel before the German government.

We should have had to accept murder (This is the second of three articles. The third to be published next week.)

der as a thing against which we could not defend ourselves. We should have allowed this new horror to become a part of all future wars, and have been responsible for its incorporation into international law.

We should have proved that because the fire which burns up our farms' meadows in beyond the horizon, we would submit to the kindling of it.

We might have accepted the seventy cents for wheat and the six cents for cotton, but we could not have done it merely because we were commanded to do it. By so doing we should have accepted degradation. We should have begun, after winning our freedom in our own revolution and establishing a union on the foundation of liberty in the blood and tears of our war between the states, to knuckle under to autocracy! We should have basely yielded up our birthright as Americans.

Such a thought is intolerable. Peace at such a price would not be peace, but only a preparation for a future revolt against autogation. Better any sort of war: better war forever, than that.

Whenever the time comes for new sacrifices, let us remember that we fight, not for our liberties tomorrow, or next year or twenty years from now, but for our freedom today. Not for the right to live in the future, but for the right to make a living this year.

German oppression had begun to pinch us before we entered the war. If we had not declared war, but had accepted the conditions of life ordered for us by the Kaiser, we should today be a poverty-stricken people. Our factories would be shut down, our workmen unemployed, our people starving, our farmers ruined by the poverty of those for whose consumption they grow their crops. There is loss and sacrifice in the war, but there would have been far more of loss and sacrifice in accepting the German terms. We should have lost more in money than we have spent in the war, but we should have lost something far more precious. We should have lost our souls.

An Old Persian Fable.
An oriental story tells us of a man who was asked to lend a rope to a neighbor. His reply was that he was in need of the rope just then. "Shall you need it a long time?" asked the neighbor.
"I think I shall," replied the owner, "as I am going to tie up some sand with it."
"Tie up sand!" exclaimed the would be borrower. "I do not see how you can do that!"
"Oh, you can do almost anything with a rope when you do not want to lend it," was the reply.

Hopi Indian Debutantes.
Among the Hopi girls of marriageable age signify their willingness for matrimony by doing their hair up in whorls, one over each ear. In the symbolism of the tribe these whorls represent the blossoms of the squash vine. These whorls are taken down at marriage, and thereafter the matron wears her hair in two rolls, one hanging down each side of her face. These rolls are said to represent the fruit of the squash.—Christian Herald.

SHOWER BATHS FOR CHILDREN

CHATEAU DES HALLES NOW CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL

One of the Most Complete Establishments of its Kind in France, With Jolly Playrooms and Toys to Amuse Patients.

Up in the mountains, where the snow falls early and lies deep, 30 miles from Lyons, is the little French village of Les Halles—a story book village, with its massive stone church standing sentinel over two long rows of trim, blue-gray plaster cottages. And a mile farther on is the Chateau des Halles, where your Red Cross has established a home for 200 sick children.

Margali built the chateau. Margali was the man who built the railroad along the Riviera and many other railroads in France. And thirty odd years ago he built this castle up in the mountains for his country home. But soon after his two children died. Then he died, and when his widow followed him she left the chateau in the city of Lyons to be used as a hospital for children.

The War's Wreckage.

Then came the war. A little rivulet of the war's wreckage began to trickle in at Elvins—"refugees," elderly men and women, children, even babies, who had come lived in the ruins of France snuffed by the German hordes and whom the Germans, finding them useless, were beginning to ship back into France by way of Switzerland. Gradually this rivulet swelled. Soon 1,000 of these unfortunate were arriving at Elvins daily. And fully half of them were children, undernourished, thin, dirty, dirty, sickly and, worse, grim, spiritless, with faces that had forgotten how to smile.

To care for these children was the task your Red Cross at once assumed. Working with the French authorities, the Red Cross secured permission to make use of the old and almost forgotten Chateau des Halles up there in the mountains. For years the castle had been closed. No effort had ever been made to fit it up as a hospital. Your Red Cross had to begin at the very beginning.

Rooms Big and Jolly.

But what a wonderful task it has accomplished! The Chateau des Halles, transformed into a children's hospital and rest home in fortune beside under the terrible pressure of war needs, with little time to think twice and no time to retire errors, is not only one of the most complete establishments of its kind; it is one of the best children's hospitals in all France. The two rooms where the arriving children are isolated for a few days are big, jolly rooms—just what is needed to efface from the little ones' minds the memories of those long days behind the German lines. The big play room is strewn with rocking horses, and wonderful music-making parrots and other toys carried by the wounded pilots.

And so you stray from room to room, and everywhere you find new evidences of this matchless care. And then you reach the bathrooms. This chateau was built by a man of wealth. Its plumbing was excellent, and yet it has been stripped out and replaced with little, low wash basins and little shower baths that the children can use more comfortably.

Thus you have your Red Cross children and cares for France's children.

The Tally Stick.

An old time way of proving one's right to the payment of money loaned was by tally sticks. A plain stick was used, and when a man loaned a sum a stick was broken, and the creditor and debtor each took a part. When the time for payment came the man who had the stick, which fitted exactly to the stick held by the debtor, received the money. Two sticks never broke in exactly the same shape, so there was never any dispute about who had a right to the money.

The Word "Asphalt."

Of doubtful ancestry is the word "asphalt." Apparently it means "not slippery." The Greeks themselves were tempted to derive "asphaltum" from "as" (not) and "phallos," "made to fall or slip. However, the word is really of unknown barbarian origin—Ptolemaica, some say. Asphalt was in use very early in the history. It is said to have been the slime with which the infant Moses' ark of bulrushes was daubed and which the builders of the tower of Babel used instead of mortar.

There Are Others.

Johnny had been doing his home work quietly and felt sure that his lessons would be perfect without having to ask the aid of his father until all of a sudden he said, "This gets me, dad!"

"What is the trouble now, son?" asked the father.

"Why, the teacher wants me to give a definition of the word 'non-essentials!'"

"That's easy, son," replied the father; "just give it as the letter p in pneumonia."—Sunshine Bulletin.

Men and women band together into classes and associations to obtain a general average of opinions. But the whole machine is wrong from the ground up. Immediately after making the attraction Mr. Musket telegraphed the railroad officials at Los Angeles and Berkeley and it is understood that his action will be confirmed by a permanent rider. The wiping out of the issue of the German capital received the unanimous endorsement of the railroad men about the line.

Mr. Musket has been in all parts of the San Fernando valley and is now campaigning in the eastern part of the county. He has invented the "questionnaire" method of campaigning. He is a business man and does not claim to be an orator, and invites the voters to ask him questions. This has been very successful in street meetings.

Congressman Henry Z. Osborne of the Third District spoke Friday afternoon in the San Fernando valley at the guest of H. J. Whitley. Harry Chandler of the Los Angeles Times was also a member of the party. Mr. Osborne had not visited the valley for several years, and he was most agreeably surprised at the developments made during the time which has elapsed since his last visit. Stops were made at the Van Nuys cannery, the Baines-Kinball drying plant, the Owensmouth bean cleaner and other points. Mr. Osborne was most interested in the Chatsworth reservoir which has progressed beyond his expectations.

Immediately after making the attraction Mr. Musket telegraphed the railroad officials at Los Angeles and Berkeley and it is understood that his action will be confirmed by a permanent rider. The wiping out of the issue of the German capital received the unanimous endorsement of the railroad men about the line.

Mr. Musket has been in all parts of the San Fernando valley and is now campaigning in the eastern part of the county. He has invented the "questionnaire" method of campaigning. He is a business man and does not claim to be an orator, and invites the voters to ask him questions. This has been very successful in street meetings.

Congressman Henry Z. Osborne of the Third District spoke Friday afternoon in the San Fernando valley at the guest of H. J. Whitley. Harry Chandler of the Los Angeles Times was also a member of the party. Mr. Osborne had not visited the valley for several years, and he was most agreeably surprised at the developments made during the time which has elapsed since his last visit. Stops were made at the Van Nuys cannery, the Baines-Kinball drying plant, the Owensmouth bean cleaner and other points. Mr. Osborne was most interested in the Chatsworth reservoir which has progressed beyond his expectations.

A Few Valuable Points for Farmers

1. Operation with a plow attachment requires only one man or woman.
2. Mechanical power costs much less per unit than horses or animal power.
3. Solves the labor problem and puts every acre under increased production.
4. England has 6000 of these tractors already employed, doing highly satisfactory work.
5. May be used for pulling mowers, hay rakes, hay loaders, and operating hay presses, and doing more and better work for less money.
6. Moderate in price.
7. Uses kerosene for fuel.

The Greatest Mechanical Tool for Farmers Ever Designed.

DO NOT WAIT

The largest initial allotment of these tractors to any part of the United States was given to California, but notwithstanding government priority in both materials and rail shipment, the demand is bound to tax our best intentions and efforts in making deliveries.

Only 2500 tractors are available at present. Orders for tractors will be filled in the order in which they are placed. Do not wait until there are a hundred orders ahead and then expect to be supplied immediately. Act now. Get your order in at once. Our agency covers the entire San Fernando Valley and we are anxious to have the farmers in this territory promptly supplied and the wonderful possibilities of this area more fully developed by increased acreage and production. The Fordson Tractor will do this.

G. A. HUFFAKER

Judge White is a self-made man in evidence. In his first year he worked afternoons and on Saturdays in an East Los Angeles grocery store. When he was granted Pea Railroad as a stenographer, and later he became rate clerk and assistant to the trainmaster at Noodles, Cal. In this way he earned sufficient to pay his way through the College of Law of the University of Southern California. Immediately on his graduation he began the practice of law in Los Angeles and he became associated with some of the most important criminal and civil cases in the history of the state.

In 1912 he was appointed to succeed Police Judge Rose when the latter was elected Mayor of Los Angeles. At the general election in 1914 Judge White was chosen to the office for a term of four years by the largest vote ever cast for a police court judge.

Judge White founded the Women's Court, urged the establishment of the Women's Industrial Home, banished the "Blood Pools" from Los Angeles and created the police court probation system, by which hundreds of men have been saved for a life of usefulness and thousands of dollars have been saved for the taxpayers.

Professional and business men, all branches of labor and representatives of all of the women's clubs have endorsed Judge White's candidacy.

Berlin was "captured" this week by W. C. Musket, Republican candidate for Congress in the Ninth district. Berlin was the name of a station on the main line of the Southern Pacific near Arcata and passengers on trains going north or south through San Fernando valley saw the station sign and wondered why such a name was tolerated.

Mr. Musket, while campaigning through the valley, noticed the sign and it became offensive to his party and he ordered a sign sign painter he ordered a sign with the name "Berthing" and without waiting for the Southern Pacific to act, he obliterated the name of Berlin.

FOR W. C. MUSKET

31,590 men and women of Los Angeles City voted in 1915 34,700 men and women of Los Angeles County voted in 1916. He was elected both times.
