OWENSMOUTH, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1918

NUMBER 82

GREAT ASSET IS CANNERIES

What an immense asset to our San Fernando Valley is the canneries at our door. While the topic of conservation of food is fresh in our mind, the art of canning is by far the most important. The canneries not only do their part in the saving of food but canning in the home has made a demonstration worthy of our consideration.

The magnitude of our canning victory continues to grow, along with our purely military victory. It seemed like an ambitious objective that the department of agriculture set last spring for the season's canning—1,500,000 quarts of fruits and vegetables to be put up for winter use. It is reported that this huge total will be surpassed. That means about 75 quarts per family, which is undoubtedly the highest average attained for decades.

There is a 50% increase this year in the number of firms that manufacture supplies for the canning army. There is an increase of 25% in the quantity of canning equipment sold. The demand for rubber rings for jars has increased 100% over last year.

It is one of the most successful of our voluntary achievements. It helped literally to win the war by conserving immense quantities of food that otherwise would have spoiled, by providing a plentiful supply of food during the winter and releasing other food stuffs to send to our allies, and by holding down food prices and enabling us to put more money into war loans.

LATE LOCALS

W. H. Paul is building a hay barn.

Mrs. Gallow was in Tropic last Wednesday.

The Gazette finishes its sixth volume this week and starts on its seventh year with next week.

Wm. Jeffrey, residing west of here, is moving his personal effects to Mission across this week.

The Benama bungalow east of here on Sherman way is nearly completed. Hammond Lumber Co. furnished the lumber.

R. S. Cover of Needles, Calif. was the guest of his sister, Mrs. Lindsey, a few days last week. He says the "flu" is over in Needles.

There is a soldier's letter in the postoffice addressed to Mrs. Eliza Trevett which remains uncalled for. The letter is from Hiram Trevett, 305 Inf. A. E. F.

Owing to the rain the Red Cross society postponed its meeting until next Wednesday evening in the church room. As the annual election of officers takes place, every member is urged to attend.

The quail season opened this morning for the hunters. The same fifteen per day, thirty per week limits on valley and desert quail govern as last year, and mountain quail may be killed not to exceed ten per day, and twenty per week.

E. V. Ellis is an influenza patient.

Thanksgiving Day Thursday, November 28th.

Miss Anne Greene of Sierra Madre spent Sunday with Mrs. L. P. Mitchell.

California Liberty Fair is being announced to open at Exposition Park on November 21st.

A golden star has been added to the service flag in memory of the death of Cleo Davis.

H. J. Ryan of Alhambra has been appointed county horticultural commissioner to succeed the late Wm. Wood.

H. M. Ballou of Los Angeles was in Owensmouth yesterday and called at The Gazette office. Mr. Ballou has a ranch north of here and has taken The Gazette since the paper started six years ago.

C. F. Anley spent Saturday and Sunday with his family in Corona. They had just received the sad news that Mrs. Anley's eldest brother had been killed in action on October 5th.

The cartons and supplies for the use of those intending to send a Christmas box overseas, have arrived and Mrs. Mitchell, who has charge of the work is ready to give assistance to any for the asking.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Thompson, who moved from their ranch near Chatsworth to occupy the Mack place a few months ago, are this week moving back again as the place has been sold to a family from Santa Marie. The place belonged to Harry Chandler.

Rain in very sparing doses came Wednesday, but the season's record was increased by .15 of an inch. The total rainfall to date is 2.98. Last year at the corresponding date we had no record of rain. As the bean harvest is over the little downpour was hailed with gladness.

G. M. Janeway of the Hammond Lumber Co., who is officially notified yesterday that all restrictions are lifted from lumber sales and permits for building including all Government, State, municipal work of any character. Public utilities, farm buildings and improvements to any amount. It also applies to school buildings costing $25,000 or less. Other buildings, repairs, extensions, etc., costing $10,000 or less. Permits will be issued between $10,000 and $25,000 by the State Council of Defense. Larger amounts must have approval from Washington.

A team hitched to a wagon belonging to Wm. Bluemel ran away early Wednesday morning with results more amusing than tragic. It occurred on Sherman way running over a mile before coming to a halt. A very surprised and disgusted cow, which happened to be tied to the wagon by a stout link with the processor in the trunk. A few feet further back in frantic pursuit on foot, came Mr. Bluemel, and so well did he sprint that twice he held the tip of the flying cow's tail in his grasp. He stopped his wind, howled and had to let go. A mail box, which momentarily interfered with the speed, was sadly treated, but whether it was run over by the wagon, Mr. Bluemel or the cow our reporter was unable to learn. Mr. Bluemel has been asked to repeat his experience for the benefit of a moving picture company.

OBITUARY

Forrest Rhoades, aged 38 years, died on the 8th inst after a brief illness of pneumonia, in the hospital at Los Angeles. Mr. Rhoades was a long-time resident of Owensmouth, working for Fred Blatter, the meat merchant. He was well liked by all. Generous to a fault, ready to give a helping hand to any in need, and was a courteous gentleman at all times.

When the Red Cross drive was on, he gave himself and was the direct means of a good many others giving, and raising a goodly sum for the work.

He will be greatly missed by all. A mother and a brother in Denver, Colorado, sent at once for the body to be forwarded, where burial took place.

C. M. Stone, formerly police officer at Owensmouth, died last week of pneumonia in Los Angeles, where he was employed on the city police force. He leaves a wife and four children. Mr. Stone was in Owensmouth for about one year during which time he and his wife won many friends for their loyalty as workers in the Red Cross here.

Library Notes

Miss Clara Rookley, chairman of the library committee, has been arranging for magazines for the coming year, and we have the following:

Century, Scribner, St. Nicolas, American Boy, National Geographic, Literary Digest, Popular Mechanics, Delinester, Red Cross Magazine, Scientific American, Country Gentleman, Country Life, Good Housekeeping, Woman's Home Companion, Harper's Magazine and Sunset Magazine.

We have on our shelves some new war books—"Covered with Mud and Glory," by Laford. "Runaway Russia," by Harper; also many others.

In the center of our service flag A golden star is seen. Once it was a star of blue, For, to his country he was true. Now he has many stars and stripes, "a sacrifice supreme."

Amid the bonnie stars of blue Its radiance shines apart And we softly speak his name. For we know it is the same Bright "Golden Star" in a mother's heart.

CARD OF THANKS

In the death of Cleo, our son, brother and friend, our cup of sorrow is full, yet the precious consolation and sympathy of our friends together with the Everlasting arm, have been our strength and refuge.

We thank those who ministered unto us, those who came out at a risk of life in this particular crisis. We are thankful for tributes of sympathy and floral expressions at the cemetery. Also especially the officers, nurses and comrades at Camp Kearny, who stood by until the last and showed every kindness. These loving memories will never be forgotten.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Davis, family, and Miss Elida Hubler.

Peace at Last!

Germany has made an unconditional surrender!

This is the happiest tidings the world has known since the beginning of the Christian Era!

Let us rejoice with exceeding great joy for Democracy is coming and cruel autocracy with its wicked implements of warfare must go!

Paeans of overwhelming joy sounded in every conceivable form from the hoarse voice of the weakest child to the most powerful gun in American armament...

Ransomed souls from hateful bondage now sing lullabies of freedom from German shackles. That pipe dream of world power from that selfish throne has been forever abolished...

We all knew peace had to come. The smell of victory has been in our nostrils for some time. May our brave land be forever safe hereafter under the protection of a world democracy.

Congratulations to our own Government for the helping hand and influence that made possible the terms of peace and the cessation of hostilities.

"Beans is Beans"

G. A. Turner, president and manager of the California Bean Growers' Association, reminds us of this fact. And beans are going to be beans for some time.

President Turner issues the following warning to the farmers of Southern California raising the legumes:

"Don't give your beans away! There never was a time when the bean grower has had less warrant for getting tricky. There is positively no indication of overproduction; in fact, most important bean-producing sections are below last year's averages."

Present low price levels are due to the growers' own act and will be acts alone. Do not blame the broker, do not blame the dealer and do not blame the government.

It is you, Mr. Bean Grower, and you alone, that are to blame. How do you expect the trade to buy in any quantity when you reduce your price from day to day? Would you buy your year's coal supply if the price was going down each day?

Reports from Michigan are that the growers there are panicly, too, selling choice hampers, mostly at 40 to 50 per cent below or even less. That is their business; let them do it; let them sell out; let them give their beans away if they want to, but they still blame no one but themselves.

Common sense assures you the largest demand for American food products in the history of the world. There will be a market at a fair price for every eatable bean we have.

Common sense assures you the largest demand for American food products in the history of the world. There will be a market at a fair price for every eatable bean we have.

"G. A. TURNER, President and Manager California Bean Growers' Association, Stockton, Cal."

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY (From Republished from The Gazette.)

The bricklayers started work on the grammar school building this week.

A car load of brick arrived Wednesday for the new garage and the masons were to have begun work on the walls yesterday.

The State highway, westward from Centuena Pass, has been completed as far as Reseda avenue, which takes in the famous live oak groves near the Encino ranch, one of the valley beauty spots.

J. Jepsen, who is preparing a model poultry ranch at Marian, has just received a shipment of 1000 thoroughbred white Leghorn baby chicks, and will let them loose in his large brooder house just completed.

BRIEF REMINISCENCE

"I have one still better," said Alfred Brant of the Elliott-Brant ranch, who has been quite interested in reading The Gazette weekly Reminiscence.

"I located in the valley two years before there was a town of Owensmouth thought of. The fertility of the soil was always manifested by the immense fields of tall grain that grew on the Owensmouth townsite. That was before any survey was made for Sherman way, and the only roads that were running through the valley at that time were mere winding trails. I had a hunch that perhaps some day in the very near future, there would be great development out here—and sure enough, I was right."

SCHOOL NEWS IN BRIEF

Short Local Items of General Interest

HIGH SCHOOL

Notice to Students

No definite date has been announced as to when school will open again. In the meantime the students are urged to do all they can in those subjects which may be studied at home.

It is not expected that those who have been unable to attend school will be prepared to keep up with the heavy assignments of work after school opens.

If school does not open in another week, we suggest that you write a card or letter to the principal stating briefly what you have been able to do in your home study.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL

The attention of our boys and girls is called to the "United War Work Campaign," which is being conducted this week. We know that our students would like a part in this, and to be known as "Victory Boys and Girls."

Speak to your parents and get their approval, then communicate with a teacher in your locality from either grammar or high school stating the amount you wish to contribute and in what manner.

We all rejoice that an opportunity to contribute to the reconstruction work which will bring happiness to those who have suffered so much.

LATE LOCALS

The many friends of M. D. Murphy will regret to learn of the death of his wife and baby at Pasadena last week.

Charles Leiser and Anson Cahwin, whose names are among the last draft call, were to have left this week, but within a few hours before leaving they received a message canceling the war order as a result of the peace terms with Germany.

Fred N. Arnoldy, the capable and popular attorney of Los Angeles, will return to the residence of San Fernando valley, left last Thursday morning for the officers' training camp at Waco, Texas.

Take your shoes and harness to the Electric Shoe Hospital for repairs.

No Lemper Quiet. Bill—Do you remember my brother? Gill—Oh, yes, very well. "Remember how quiet he used to be in school?" "Yes, indeed." "Well, look at him now." "What's the matter with him now?" "He's a bass drummer." —Yonkers Statesman.

Artesian Wells. The Chinese have obtained water through the means of artesian wells for over a thousand years. One of the most famous wells in existence is that of Grenelle, in the outskirts of Paris, where the water is brought from a depth of 1,798 feet. It yields 510 1/2 gallons of water a minute.

A House For You. If you have sense and feeling determine what sort of a house will be fit for you, then determine to work for it, to get it and to die in it, if the Lord will. I mean a house that you can entirely enjoy and manage, but one which you will not be proud of, except as you make it charming in its modesty. —John Ruskin.

Sleeping Sharks. The great sleeper shark is a most stupid, gluttonous species—as really are most of the sharks—and spends most of its time dozing on the surface of the sea. When aroused or hungry it attacks whales, porpoises or, in fact, anything it can find and bites pieces from its victims with its katana-like jaws.

VALLEY AND VICINITY

The Cream of News From Newspaper Exchanges

Zelzah Tribune: We are told that a rancher near Zelzah sold his crop of Fuyu beans a few days ago for five cents a pound.

Lankershim Laconic: Looking over the Lankershim district one is surprised at finding so much prize stock of different kinds. Thoroughbred animals of some sort can be found tucked away on almost every ranch. Especially is this true about hogs.

San Fernando Press: Local bean growers and those of San Fernando valley district will benefit from largely increased prices for their products next season.

As is customary for several years the price paid will be based on the price at which sugar is sold, as well as upon the sugar quality of the beet. The new schedule, with present prices of sugar, will give growers between $100 and $200 an acre or more, and will make beet growing in this section as profitable as bean raising.

Van Nuys News: The market for Van Nuys Bank has been stiffening, according to reports from the Fernando Valley Feed and Fuel Company of this city.

During the past week 30,439 sacks, averaging 100 pounds each, were sold and shipped from the warehouse of this firm in Van Nuys.

We now have on sale a new and complete line of Christmas toys, post cards, booklets and other suitable gifts. See us before going to the city and save money.

Bevis Bros., Co., Van Nuys.

Solomon's Temple. The temple of Solomon was begun in the fourth year of his reign (B. C. 1025) and completed seven years later. The whole area was inclosed by the outer walls and formed a square of about 600 feet. The front of the porch was supported by two great brass pillars. One of these was called Jachin and the other Bôaz.

Thirteen at Dinner. Thirteen at dinner is an odd Norse myth. It was deemed unlucky because Loki, god of mischief, once intruded, making thirteen guests, and Balder, the brilliant god, was slain at the instigation of Loki, who prevailed upon Hodyr, a strong but blind god, to throw mistle, the mistletoe, at Balder, perforating the latter and letting out his divine soul.

Chariots. Among some nations of antiquity chariots, as elephants among other nations, may be regarded as filling the place of heavy artillery, so that the military power of a nation might be estimated by the number of its chariots. Thus Pharaoh in pursuing Israel took with him 600 chariots.

Cold Starch. If you wish to make starch and let it get cold before starching the clothes, try this plan: After the starch is made and while still hot sprinkle cold water all over the top as though you were sprinkling clothes. You will find no scum on top and can use every speck of it.

GLEO DAVIS NOBLE LIFE

The funeral of the late Cleo Davis, who died of pneumonia November 7th at Camp Kearny, was held in Compton last Saturday, Rev. McAmmon, former pastor at Owensmouth, officiated. The remains were interred in the family lot. Deceased leaves a father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Homer H. Davis, one brother, Wayne, and a cousin, Miss Ruby Davis, also a grandmother, Mrs. W. E. Davis, to mourn his loss.

Cleo Weldon Davis was born in Stansbury, Mo., August 6, 1896, and moved to California with his parents and then attended the public school at Compton, prior to moving to Owensmouth. He graduated from the Hollywood high school and was one of the most popular members of his class.

During his high school career he became a professional baseball player, and was pitcher for the Hollywood team when it won the championship in 1915. He also was awarded a costly sweater from the high school faculty, a prize for holding the highest average as a batter in the nine.

Cleo had a host of friends, being an exemplary young man, clean, true and manly; he possessed great generosity of soul and warmth of heart. A useful life, just entering upon the highway of success and opportunity.

He had a charming personality, which made him a fine specimen of manhood, with the courage, energy and skill that makes a good soldier.

He loved outdoor sport and just before leaving for Camp Kearny in September the Davis family also his friend, Miss Edna Hubler, took a two-weeks auto outing, fishing, hunting and touring in the north.

As a fellow employe in the State bank, he was well liked for his fidelity to his position. When the Home Guards were organized in Owensmouth Cleo was one of the first to volunteer. Last January he went to Imperial in the employ of the Hammond Lumber Company as book-keeper, where he remained until he received his country's call.

Mr. Davis received the following special letter from his Captain at Camp Kearny:

16th Div. Headquarters Troop, Camp Kearny, Nov. 7, 1918.

Mr. Homer H. Davis, Owensmouth, Calif.

My Dear Mr. Davis: On behalf of the officers and men in this troop, permit me to express our heartfelt sympathy to you and your family in the great loss of your son. I know that at such a time words fail to express one's emotions. When your son died I lost not only one of my best soldiers, but also one of the finest men I have known.

His record in this troop was in every respect excellent. He was always attentive to duty, always endeavoring to put forth his best effort in all things small and big. The men who knew him more intimately than I say he has left a place which cannot be filled by another.

Your son had done such splendid work that tomorrow I would have recommended him for admission to an officer's training camp where he would, without question, have qualified for a commission.

When the news came to me I was thinking of his mother and his family. The mothers are the real soldiers for they have all their lives to miss, the brave men who have given their lives for the great cause that the world has known.

Remember that the force of circumstances alone prevented you from making the great sacrifice on the battlefields of France. The honor and glory due him and his family are the same as if he had given his life there. No life is more worth while than one that is given as he gave his. Please be true to your wife my dearest sympathy.

Respectfully,
Capt. Mario Lazo.

The Girl and the Bishop

HE was one of the best known American bishops, preaching straight-out, man-fashion sermons to the boys in France. Everywhere they liked what he said and the way he said it.

On a certain night last summer, he was scheduled to speak in the big hut in one of the largest centers. His subject was announced. The hour was set for eight o'clock. Everything was ready.

Then came the telegram. It came in the middle of the afternoon. It threw the head Secretary into a frenzy. It was from Paris.

It said that the most popular American actress in France would arrive to give her performance that evening!

The girl and the bishop at once!

A hurried consultation was held and then it was explained to the bishop how matters stood.

"What time does she arrive?" asked the bishop.

"A little after eight o'clock," said some one.

"Then it's perfectly simple," the bishop went on. "Move my meeting ahead to seven o'clock. It will last only forty-five minutes. Then clear the hut, re-arrange the benches and bring on your musical comedy star!"

"Do you mean it?" they gasped.

"Why, of course!"

And that is exactly what they did. At 7:45 o'clock the bishop closed his meeting and at 8:15 o'clock the actress came, her show, from the same stage.

There was no pretense about it—no attempt to get an audience for a religious meeting by announcing a vaudeville show. Each gathering was announced for exactly what it was. And at both gatherings the hut was packed!

The American soldier needs diversion and entertainment as well as he needs religion. He gets both at his hut—each one in its place, each one clearly defined, honestly labelled, sincerely offered.

This United War Work Campaign is for funds to carry clean, wholesome amusement to the soldiers as much as to provide them with the athletic, educational, religious and social background of home. It is to round out the lives of the men whose existence in a foreign country would become narrow and monotonous.

Give—to let the soldiers have a few of the good things you have every day.

UNITED WAR WORK CAMPAIGN
