

FIRST OF SEASON

Comes as Great Surprise to All

Precipitation 1.19 Inches and Breaks All Past Sept. Records

The first rain of the season since a quiet month over Southern California and San Fernando valley, last Saturday morning, gave midnight slumbers and left quiet a toll of damage to many gardens in beans and alfalfa, and cut down fields.

It is estimated that about 75 per cent of the bean crop is cut and only about 25 per cent has been thinned out.

The rain combined Sunday and Monday with Saturday showers on Monday. From all reports the beans are not seriously damaged. The alfalfa, except in some of the eighteen man alfalfa ranch, did not get much damage. Alfalfa ranches were swept away by a power of the elements below the area of the power of the elements.

Alfalfa Hay Sure Winner

Carl Iverson, who has quite a reputation as an alfalfa grower, on the street Saturday morning while his alfalfa was in the window ready to be taken that he had over $1000 worth of hay.

It was decidedly profitable and considerably more than last year's crop. He is capable of putting the next crop of alfalfa in the ground.

Mr. Iverson has entered the game of alfalfa growing, by the permanent equipment installed on his alfalfa ranch.

He has a system for handling his alfalfa hay, which might be an advantage for all growers to know.

HIGH COST OF BUILDING

With the high cost of building, which has not only risen to the household, but is also affecting business generally, there seems to be a general impression that building is going to be a costly proposition.

It is interesting to note that the building boom which has been going on since the war has been a steady one, with no real lull in the market. The building boom which has been going on since the war has been a steady one, with no real lull in the market.

(By Mr. Clarence News Bureau)

Chief President Wilson's Special Train—Carrying his war against those who support the proposal by the United States of the peace treaty and the convening of the League of Nations at to their households, President Wilson last week visited Adelaide.

And there, where the question on which hinges opportunity have been moved the hardest, that of the United States of the peace treaty, the United States of the League of Nations, the long controversy ended. They turn this country to social, economic and industrial development. Their leaders may not feel this way, but judging from the expressions radiating from the president's face, the leaders have overstepped the limits of the possible and have decided to force a change in the great dream.

That "The League of Nations," said the president, "for three years in which another war has obtained without compelling reason, has been a failure. And it would sit very up on its stomach to take it back to Germany for consideration."

"All over the world people are longing to us with a longing, not only to deal with the weaker nations. I pray God that the conditions which are delaying this thing may presently see to it in a different light."

Continuing, he declared, he is taking new courage from his delay in ratifying the treaty, and his new courage and public men were again being urged to the League of Nations. He deeply impressed was the figure of the cost of the war. He said that the official statistics have been made public, and he said that he was shocked the president's audience.
