Dwellings of a Bygone Day

ALONG the Apache Trail in Arizona the masonry can see dwellings of a race now believed to be extinct. These cliff dwellings are three or four miles old and if their walls could speak they would tell a most dramatic story of romance and conquest.

Arizona has more than its share of interesting places to lure the tourist. There will be found eggs Indian reservations—the houses of Apache, Navajo, Hopi, Mohave and other tribes. There, too, are the famous Roosevelt Dam and the incomparable Grand Canyon of the Colorado River.

And whenever you gaze the tourist can be assured that his motor fuel will be right—because Red Crown Gasoline is sold everywhere.

Look for the Red Crown sign at service stations and garages.

NOTE

Mr. T. Dean Webster has bought out the interests of Messrs Charles Brett and G. F. Ray in the Valley Mercantile Co. and expects to give the business his entire time and attention.

We have also been fortunate in securing the services of Mrs. Nell Christiansen who will be glad to meet and serve his friends at the old stand. We will continue to handle the full line of Quality goods and merchandise and admit your patronage.

SPRING-TIME IS HERE

and the Mountains and Canyons are calling you. It is wilder-time here in the beautiful hills. The streams are especially alluring, feed the pine trees rich with the voices of contentment.

Get out of your "Hiking" folders, leave the paths of this Arroyo of ours and plan week-end visits to Nature's playground.

This railway will convey you to the entrance of "HIKERSLAND"
