

HOW TO GROW OF PINEAPPLES

CAUSE OF PINEAPPLES...
 One of the people in the world who has made a specialty of growing pineapples is an orchard raiser, J. Schlegel of Havana, Cuba. He has found the strength of the harvest of pineapples in the tropical climate of his land. In no other climate can you grow pineapples so well as in the tropics. He has found that the best soil for growing pineapples is a sandy soil, and that the best climate is a hot, sunny one. He has found that the best way to grow pineapples is to use a special fertilizer, and that the best way to harvest them is to use a special method.

CUTTING OUT PEACH BORERS

Best Plan to Use Sharp Knife or Grub in Late Fall or Early Spring

Each tree here, the most destructive pest of the peach, is the peach borer. It is a small, white, grub-like insect that burrows into the bark of the tree and lays its eggs. The eggs hatch into grubs that eat the bark of the tree and cause it to die. The best way to get rid of peach borers is to use a sharp knife or a grub in late fall or early spring. This will kill the grubs before they can lay their eggs.
