Non-Detonating Gasoline Works a Full Stroke

Gasolines explode in two ways. One kind explodes ith a crash. It defonates.

The piston receives but a single smashing impulse for each stroke. The power of the explosion is over befor the piston is half way down the full length of its stroke.

p pixon is nan way down the full rengin to its stock: Due to the tendency to explode prematurely, defonat-g gasoline limits compression in your cylinders. It causes much of the "knocking" you notice on hills, ad the repeated crashing blows increase vibration, thus creasing wear and tear.

The Sustained Explosion

the explosion from Union Gasoline is of the other kind sharp but sustained—non-detonating. It gives im to the pitton for the full length of the stroke over and efficiency are increased as a result of increas ompression, because, as all authorities know, non-de tion permits added compression.

New Speed

This added smoother power means a new "lift" on hills. You a grades with a rush. Your motor doen't "knock." There's more map in your pickup and new speed on the level. Theration is reduced, which saves wear and tear. Fuel mileage arcreased due to better efficiency all around.
