Harvester Farms, located on the north east corner of Glade and Devonshire, is Los Angeles Historic Cultural Monument #645.

Harvester Farms includes a 1920's style Barn and the surrounding buildings. The main house is a California Ranch style structure. The barn is described as a two-story barn complete with a hay loft, stables, ranch hand living quarters complete with rest room, showers and old telephones.

It all started with the breeding endeavors of William Randolph Hearst and a trainer by the name of Jim Fagan on the Hearst Ranch in Hidden Valley, Camarillo. THE HARVESTER, a golden Palomino, was foaled on April 28, 1938 and was purchased and trained by Jim Fagan. Starting as a yearling, The Harvester was undefeated in breeding classes as a trick and reined horse. As a four year old, The Harvester was retired from competition, and went on to sire more than 100 Palominos registered in The Palomino Horse Association, Inc.

Jim and Edna Fagan owned and or trained a selection of 30 golden Palomino horses sired by The Harvester, all trained

In 1950, The Harvester starred in the movie "The Palomino" filmed in the rugged hills above Chatsworth Lake.

The Harvester's most famous offspring was Bamboo Harvester, who was later known as MR. ED – the talking horse, in the 1961-66 TV Series. Mr. Ed was born in 1949 in El Monte and was purchased and trained by Les Hilton. Les Hilton had apprenticed under Will Rogers and worked with the mules in the Francis the Talking Mule movies.

Jim Fagan was president of the Palomino Horse Association and his wife Edna was secretary. There were three famous Movie and TV horses registered in the Association - Trigger, Trigger Jr. and Mr. Ed.

Jim Fagan died in a tragic horse accident, when a horse he was training slipped in gravel and fell on him in 1952. Following that, Edna continued as secretary and registrar for the Palomino Association along with training horses.

Edna Fagan moved to Chatsworth around 1953 and purchased the property that became Harvester Farms in 1956. The Harvester lived in the big red barn on Devonshire, and continued to be available for stud service "to approved mares" until his death in 1963.

In 1971 Edna, riding Highland Harvest, was recognized as having ridden in her 28th Rose Parade, and would eventually participate in 36 Rose Parades. In 1980, Edna sold Harvester Farms, and moved up to Ducor, California to be with her family.

The Harvester is buried in the driveway in front of the barn that he made famous as a Champion Golden Palomino.
